Hello Amazing Parents,

Can you believe it's November! We had so much fun with October and are gearing up for the holiday season with lots of fun things planned.

With a busy fun season coming up, please remember the weather will be changing also. Please send your student with a jacket for chilly days. Below are new adventures we will be going on in the month of November! I am praying for each and every one of you and looking forward to growing more in the Lord this month with you and your student.
